Mr. Hulburd announced that the students represented 34 states, the District of Columbia and four foreign countries. It was further announced that Phillips Academy had awarded scholarships to a record 37 students representing 19 different states. Scholarship grants for the summer session were in excess of $14,000. School Population Is Going Up, Up, Up!

A minimum of 2,325 children will be enrolled in public elementary schools here by 1963, and this figure may leap as high as 2,560, according to estimates of a school population survey committee.

The School Committee heard revised estimates from the committee of laymen at its Tuesday meeting.

Louis M. Warlick informed the Committee, through member John Sullivan, that the former estimates must be upgraded by about 200 youngsters.

He cited two reasons for the revision - that more families have moved into the community than had been anticipated in the statistical survey, and that construction of St. Augustine's School is not progressing as rapidly as had been predicted.

Mr. Warlick and his committee had earlier estimated, on the basis of a statistical study, that a minimum of 2,124 children would be in public elementary schools in 1963, with a possible maximum in that year of 2,361. The committee had felt that the actual enrollment

Denies Basic Dimlich Charge

Town counsel Fredric S. O'Brien has filed an answer to charges brought in a suit against the School Committee by Benjamin F. Dimlich.

In the answers to specific allegations, the Committee has in general denied the basic contention by Mr. Dimlich that he had been performing essentially the same duties as principal or supervisor for longer than the time required to gain tenure; and that the Committee did not follow procedures defined in the statutes for his removal or demotion from the principalship of the Junior High School.

In a point by point answer, Atty. O'Brien has agreed to certain allegations in the suit, in general bearing on the identity of the School Committee and the position Mr. Dimlich held at the Junior High.

The answer denies, however, that the School Committee did not follow legal procedure, claiming that the Committee may legally fail to appoint the petitioner, and may appoint some other person.

The original suit asserted that the petitioner - Mr. Dimlich -

RECORDS SHATTERED IN WATER DEPARTMENT

Water records in the town were completely shattered the first two days of this week.

Supt. Donald Bassett reported Wednesday morning that 5.1 million gallons of water were pumped during Tuesday, and that 4.7 million gallons were pumped Monday.

Both days established new records for the town, according to Bassett. The former high was slightly over 4 million.

Bassett said, however, that there is no problem with the supply of water, even though the dry spell continues.

seven additional men from other preparatory schools.

The purpose of the summer school, as announced by Mr. Hulburd, is to provide an opportunity for serious study for qualified and able secondary school students. The curriculum is designed to provide enrichment and advancement rather than remedial or makeup work. Mr. Hulburd emphasized that it should be understood that the summer session is not designed as a tutoring or cramming school. Mr. Hulburd outlined the four basic changes that the faculty has approved to implement the new program.

The length of the session will be reduced from eight weeks to six. No credit will be given for any courses.

No review or make-up courses will be offered.

Every student will be required to take a six-hour course in English composition in addition to a twelve-hour major course in some other area of study.

The summer school will also offer several courses not ordinarily contained in the High School Curriculum: The Art of Communication, Economic and Political Geography, The Twentieth Century Challenge to United States Foreign Policy; China, Japan, and the United States; Music from Song to Symphony, Art, and advanced courses in Biology, Chemistry and Physics. One of the most striking features of the summer session is the requirement that everyone take a six-hour minor in English composition.

All of the facilities of Phillips Academy will be available to the summer school students, including in addition to dormitories and classrooms, the Library with 65,000 volumes, the Addison Gallery of American Art and all the other cultural and athletic facilities of the 450 acre campus.

The following boys have been awarded scholarships: Stephen R. Adams, New Bedford; Emerson R. Allen, Hicksville, N.Y.; Paul K. Becker, Oxford, Ohio; Robert P. Land Seizure
Was Approved

With only one abstention, three municipal boards have agreed to seize 32 acres of land on the west side of Lovejoy rd. for a new school.

The land, belonging to John Noyes, has been the subject of somewhat agitated discussion recently, following a School Committee decision to ask for eminent domain proceedings.

Selectman Russell G. Doyle was the lone Board member to abstain - and he did so on the grounds that the cost of sewer disposal and drainage facilities had not adequately been spelled out.

He questioned the cost, and indeed the practicality, of using septic tanks and leaching beds in the area, which is known to have a high water table. He also queried other town officials about possible drainage problems, and the cost of meeting them.

However, the Board of Selectmen, the Finance Committee and the Planning Board approved the seizure, after meeting Monday night to discuss the subject for the second time.

The Planning Board renewed its recommendation that a school site be found in this area, because it is the area that is growing the fastest, and where the demand is greatest at this time.

The Finance Committee decision came after a corridor-huddle, and Chairman Winthrop Newcomb reported that the FinCom decision is based on the approval of the School Committee, Planning Board and Land Acquisition Committee as to the suitability of the site and the scarcity of alternate locations.

Although several members of the Board of Selectmen expressed their disagreement with using eminent domain processes, they said that the urgency of the situation appeared to leave no choice.

The Land Acquisition Committee reported two weeks ago that negotiations with Mr. Noyes could not proceed, because he does not wish to sell the land.

It was estimated Monday night that $15,000 may be a reasonable "guesstimate" of the cost of the land. It was mentioned, however, that good residential property is selling, undeveloped, for about $1,500 an acre - but those present felt this might not be the price for Mr. Noyes' property as it is farm land and is known to be wet in interior portion.

Continued objection to taking the land was heard from School Committee member William A. Doherty, who was on the short end of a 4-1 vote of his Committee to recommend seizure. He believed the land might be purchased later, and that it would be just as reasonable for the town to get another site in the Bailey rd. area, and build there. He told the gathering, as he did two weeks ago, that transportation is always a problem, and that building away from Lovejoy rd. probably wouldn't create any greater difficulty than would building in some other location.

Planning Board spokesman Harold King commented on the idea that a majority of pupils in a Lovejoy rd. school would be "walk-ins", but agreed that eventually the town must talk about building three or four more schools in sections of West Andover. Under present zoning, he commented, which the townspeople appear to want, this will be a minimum number of schools.

During the session it was brought out that no other sites are available in the Lovejoy rd. section, unless several small parcels are put together. Many of these are already built on, and thus land-takings would involve dwellings too.

Selectman William Stewart appeared to reluctantly support the procedure, as he commented that he did so only because the Finance Committee was willing to approve. He had commented on the size of the parcel, when some 14 acres are required for the actual school grounds, in terms of the cost to the taxpayers.

Dr. Milton J. Meyers told the group that the additional land could be used for recreational purposes at some future time, or possibly for use in conjunction with some classes in nature study.

He agreed with Selectman Doyle that there had been no engineering, and that he did not know what the drainage or sewage problems would be.

It was clearly emphasized, however, that the town can not use the sewer line on Lovejoy rd. for the school.

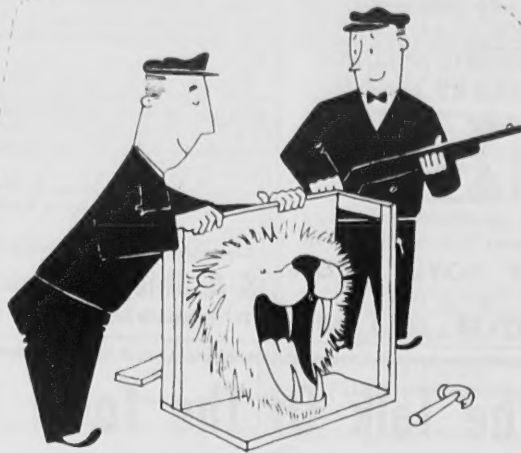

Supt. Donald Bassett, and Board of Health Chairman Robert Walsh, reminded the group that the new sewer there was put in by the Realty Construction Co. so that 40 additional homes could be built on that company's land. The firm also added to the treatment plant in Ballardvale, for the same reasons.

Both men insisted that the town could not insist, at this time, on using the sewer line when it was constructed privately for the town for another purpose.

The Talk Of The Town

The last couple weeks the talk of the town has been the New CO-OP, with some 100 feet of frontage on Andover's Main street, half of it brand new.

What people talk about is the spaciousness of the new store, more foods including the S.S. Pierce line, wide aisles, automatic doors, air conditioning, fast checkouts, everything spic & span — a delightful and convenient place to shop for fine foods at thrifty prices.

We have also heard that the shopper does no handling after leaving the checkouts. Our boys deliver your purchases right to your car in our big parking area.

From the moment you enter our new store to the time you drive off, you get the new CO-OP's red carpet treatment.

Is it any wonder that the new CO-OP is the talk of the town.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Teach The Bike Riders

Tragedies involving bicycles have been reported in the news columns of the newspapers, here and in other places, far too often in recent weeks.

It's time that something was done to promote safe bike riding, just as we promote safe driving practices.

For in many cases we suspect that the young bike drivers may not carefully observe precautions that can keep them out of trouble, either with cars or in other types of accidents.

Certainly, above everything else, the youngsters must be taught to respect the rules of safe riding on the highways — and in many cases this training will provide a firm background for the boys and girls when they grow old enough to get driving licenses.

Small children who do not pay attention to blind corners, or older ones who carry passengers on their bikes while weaving along the streets, or those who dart in and out of traffic, are actually accidents looking for a place to happen.

We wish private and public agencies, plus adults who are directly responsible for the individual youngsters, would work together to a greater extent than they now do. Some additional programs certainly appear mandatory if many bike accidents are to be prevented.

One important factor in the success of urban renewal — possibly the single most important step that can be taken is absolute frankness.

Now that funds have been made available for planning, and the project authorized, every step of the urban renewal project should be spelled out for all townspeople to know and understand.

As the consultants begin their work, there should be constant discussion with those whose property is effected; and full explanations to those who must eventually vote on this proposal.

For as we have read and heard about this problem in other areas, misunderstandings have been the real stumbling blocks to a reasonably fast approval by the communities.

It doesn't take long for rumors to take hold — but it does take much longer to chase down and dispel those stories which are based on conjecture.

In short, if urban renewal is to become a reality in Andover, those responsible for this planning stage should not only constantly provide information, but literally go to the people with the facts as they develop.

That's the only way that sensible decisions can be reached when the subject comes to a town meeting, instead of the noisy hassle that has developed in many other communities.

Watch For The Deal

Political machinations can be expected for the rest of the year, as ambitious public figures view the possibility of a Senate vacancy.

It was rumored over the past weekend that the president of the State Senate had been promised an appointment to the U. S. Senate, if Sen. John F. Kennedy is successful in his bid for the Presidency. If elected, he would resign his seat, and according to law, the governor could appoint someone to fill this seat. Although there is some doubt that any "promise" has been made in this regard, you can bet your bottom dollar that politicians throughout the state will be maneuvering for advantage, even at this early date. If Sen. Kennedy is not the nominee for President, this activity will stop. But look for it to get hotter and more devious throughout the summer and fall, if he is his party's choice for the top elective post in the country.

It's even possible for the governor to resign, and then be appointed to the vacancy by the lieutenant governor, under provisions of the law.

This special situation will keep the politicians on their toes in the Commonwealth, and promises to lend added interest to an election year that already looks like one of the hottest that we've seen for some time.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — June 1910

Principal Curtis has advised the School Committee and Punchard Trustees that he will resign from the local school. It is understood that he has accepted a position in Milton, at a larger rate of pay. Sam Black has bought the Comeau house on Pine st.

In an editorial this week, the Townsman urges the Selectmen to do something, anything, about the dust on Main st. The editorial says the business district, specially, needs treatment to allay the dust.

SUSIE'S SONNETS

"YOU CAN'T MISS IT"

A route sign is
So reassuring;
(If it's the route
By which I'm touring.)

The work of tearing down the Hotel Andover started today.

The Andover Cricket Club eleven suffered defeat at the hands of the North Chelmsford eleven Saturday, in a game played on the Andover grounds.

Garfield Lodge, K. of P., has taken a five-year lease on the hall over the Post Office in the Musgrove Building. The hall is to be remodelled and will be the headquarters for the Lodge.

George W. Chandler, the rural mail carrier, is enjoying a short vacation. Taking his place is Thomas Morrissey.

25 Years Ago — June, 1935

An alleged illegal distilling plant, hidden among pines off River rd., West Andover, was raided last Saturday by agents of the government. They said the operation had been under observation for some time, and is run by Lawrence and West Andover men. It took eight hours to dismantle the elaborate machinery, and two trucks took it to Boston.

Miss Charlotte Holt of Chestnut st. has left on a five weeks' trip to Alaska. On the way back she will stop in California to visit her sister.

Fire Chief Charles F. Emerson last Friday ordered the sale of fireworks in the town to stop until Monday morning. The local booths opened last Thursday, and there was so much noise that many complaints were registered with the Selectmen. Police were also busy trying to get boys and girls to stop exploding the fireworks near homes where there is illness.

Andover will have to pay $4,208.82 additional county tax this year. Last year, the annual levy was $21,203.92.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR WM. FERRIER

A party was held recently for William Ferrier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ferrier of Andover st., Ballardvale, when his seventh birthday was celebrated. Games were played and refreshments served, including the traditional birthday cake.

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman: "There seem to be two results of the slow-down campaign now being pushed: speeding cars are now by-passing the main streets and taking to parallel 'back streets' and the juvenile bicyclists of Andover are adopting a more indifferent, devil-may-care attitude toward motorists who are trying to use the streets."

"With reference to the first-mentioned result, I at least have seen cars take the corner from Elm st. onto Walnut ave. on two wheels, to proceed at high speed down to Harding st. and thence to Main, thereby eliminating the necessity of going through the Square."

"And with reference to the bicyclists, it might help the situation to give the aggravated motorist the right to take the bicycle of an offending child to the police station where it could be claimed by the parent of the offender."

"Additionally, there is a solution to the bicycle in the street situation that no one has suggested yet, namely that parents might impress on their children the fact that nowhere in Andover is there now a street on which it is safe to play. This would safeguard children without increasing the load on the taxpayer."

One who is both a parent and a taxpayer.

Ballardvale branch library will be open as usual, from 2-5 p.m. and 6-8 p.m. Mondays and Thursdays, during the summer. On those days if a holiday falls, the room will close, but will be open the following day for the usual hours.

Closed July 4
All departments of the library will be closed Monday, July 4. Ballardvale branch library will open Tuesday, July 5 for the usual hours.

Story Hour
There will be story hours held at the Memorial Hall Library all during the summer on Wednesday mornings, beginning at 10:30 o'clock. Boys and girls of all ages are invited to attend, as there will be something in the program that will interest each age group.

Bookworm Club
The Bookworm Reading Club has been open to all boys and girls since the last day of school, and numbers of young people have signed the reading roll and are already far on the way to becoming outstanding readers. Special book lists are provided from which the children may choose to read, but there is wide freedom in book selection for this summer club. Those who have completed three books are given a reading record book and a club pin to wear.

Ballardvale boys and girls are having a similar club in their own community and may pick up their books and records at the branch library.

Summer Loans

This long loan makes it possible for those who are leaving town to take a good supply for the inevitable rainy days and quiet evenings. Children may take six books at a time on this long loan arrangement, but parents who accompany them may take any number of books from the children's room, unless the books are held to the normal loan period because of special interest.

Helen Keller Display
This month, Helen Keller, one of the world's most famous persons, will reach the age of 80. In her honor, a display of books and pictures has been arranged at the Memorial Hall Library.

Helen Keller, herself blind and deaf, has spent much of her life in working to make this a better world for others, like herself, who have faced a lifetime of darkness and, for some, of silence. Through her efforts, and those of countless friends and admirers, there has been developed a World Crusade for the Blind, which extends help to the underdeveloped parts of the world and brings new courage and faith to thousands of blind men, women and children.

Two books that belong in this display are "Teacher Anne Sullivan Macy", written by her famous pupil, Helen Keller, and "Anne Sullivan Macy" by Nella Braddy. Both describe the beautiful, selfless girl who have so much of herself to bring a knowledge of the world to the deaf-blind child.

Biographies of Alexander Graham Bell, Laura Bridgman and Samuel Gridley Howe have been placed with the exhibit.

1920 Class Held
First Reunion

Punchard High School Class of 1920 held its 40th reunion at Fieldstones last Saturday evening, with 15 of a class of 32 members in attendance.

Letters were read by the class secretary, Mrs. Ruth Cates Godfrey, from Harry Payne, captain of one of Punchard's outstanding football teams, who is now engaged in Y.M.C.A. work in San Francisco; Robert Partridge, advertising manager for a chain of newspapers in the mid-west; and Mrs. Mary Robertson Wakefield of Maryland.

The Class History, as given on Class Day in 1920, was read by Herbert H. Otis, who delivered it 40 years ago. Many happy times were recalled under the chaperonage of Miss Loftus, Miss Clough and Miss Simmons, beloved teachers who will be long remembered in the annals of Punchard.

In the absence of Joseph Glinton, Mrs. Godfrey read the Class Prophecy which was attended with much hilarity as the real activities of the members was told, each one giving a brief resume of her or his life during the past 40 years. Outstanding among these was Eric Chandler who holds several advanced degrees from various universities. He did outstanding work during the last war with the U.S.O. and is at present holding a position in civic work in New Jersey.

Prominent in the class was Miss Edith Sweeney, manager in the bridal department of a large New York store, who lives in Tudor Village close to the United Nations Building.

Mrs. Esther Boutwell Griffin qualified as having the largest number of grandchildren.

Mrs. Edna Woodhead Eastman, now living in St. Petersburg, Fla., came the longest distance to attend the reunion.

During the 40 years, four members of the class of 32 have passed away.

Pictures taken in 1920 were on display, also an unusual pillow with signatures of the class members embroidered by Mrs. Marion White Henderson. Mementos of many happy events during the four years in Punchard were enjoyed.

Class President Joseph Lovejoy, who is with an aircraft company in Connecticut, was unable to be present. The treasurer, Herbert H. Otis, presided.

Cards of greeting were sent to Eugene Lovely, who 40 years ago was the science teacher and athletic coach, and to the former Miss Edna Bennett, who was prominently affiliated with this class.

A special blue and gold autograph book and a yellow rose bud tied with the Punchard blue ribbon was given to each member present.

The gathering closed with the singing of the class Alma Mater song led by Miss Edith Sweeney, the writer of the song, assisted by Miss Phoebe Noyes.

The Committee in charge was Mrs. Ruth Cates Godfrey, chairman, Miss Phoebe Noyes, Mrs. Lena Davis Strain, Mrs. Marion White Henderson and Herbert H. Otis.

This was the first reunion for this class and it was a very happy occasion for all who participated.

FAREWELL PARTY

Friends of Miss Jane Wagenbach of Lowell st. gave her a farewell party last Thursday. The affair was held at the Bourdelais camp at Big Island Pond where boating and bathing were enjoyed.

A cookout was also held. Those who attended were Linda Bourdelais, Patricia Lewis, Sherron Brown, Susan Gordan, Sally Guild, Jane Wagenbach, Jimmy Clark, Ray Fortuna, Brian Mulholland, Jimmy Williams, Greg Brucato and Edward Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. George Snyder, 93 Maple ave., were guests at the 20th reunion of the Orange High School class of 1940, last Saturday evening in Orange. Mr. Snyder was advisor to the class.

The professional fungicide for home lawn use

SCUTL® is the Scott's mercuric fungicide. Clean, dry, easy-to-use. No mixing. No measuring. Checks damaging fungus diseases like leaf spot, brown patch. Apply regularly with the time-saving Scott's Spreader.

It might be from the "FUNGUS THAT'S AMONG US"!

What's FUNGUS? It's a plant that does not manufacture its own food and has to live on the life juices of lush growing grass. Fungus spores, from which it produces, are carried in the air. They drop on the grasses and infest and infect the healthy plants; they drain the life from the plant KILLING it! When this happens, your lawn "Brown's-Out".

How can you tell if you have FUNGUS in your lawns? Bring in some freshly cut clippings from the "healthy section" of your lawn and we will diagnose from there!

What can you do about it if you do have it? Very simple! We will prescribe a complete SCOTT LAWN FUNGUS PROGRAM; informing you of the products to use and outlining the steps necessary to control this pest.

DENIES CHARGE

served as "acting principal" from September, 1949 through June of 1950, "performing, in fact," duties as principal or supervisor. The answer denies this, claiming the "acting principalship" occurred from October, 1949 through June, 1950.

The suit alleges that Mr. Dimlich served as "submaster" of the school from September, 1950 through June, 1957, and performed the duties of principal or supervisor during that time. The answer denies this, claiming that Mr. Dimlich "served as a teaching submaster under a duly elected and serving principal from September, 1950 through June, 1957." The answer specially denies that he acted as principal during those years.

Also commented on is the allegation that Mr. Dimlich was legally and properly elected or appointed by the School Committee to all the positions starting with teacher and those of acting principal, submaster and principal.

The answer, in this case, fails to deny or confirm, but lists the various votes taken by School Committees concerning Mr. Dimlich, and notes the absence of votes in some years. Some of the motions quoted in the answer spell out salary items, with allowances for duties as submaster and coaching.

In answer to the charge that Mr.

Dimlich served as principal, although the title changed on occasion, the answer states that the teaching submaster's post was subordinate to the principal, and that he served under the direct supervision of a principal.

And again in another answer, the Committee denies that the duties performed by Mr. Dimlich from September of 1949 through June of 1957 were actually those of a principal or supervisor, whatever title was used.

In response to the use of the word "supervisor" in some sections of the suit, the answer notes that, if the word is meant to describe the job of "teaching submaster", then the Committee does not contend they may dismiss Mr. Dimlich from that position without complying with the statutes as to procedure.

In answer to the claim that the Committee had no good cause to dismiss or demote him, and that he had not consented to this, the answer asserts that this is "irrelevant" - "because the petitioner has not served as principal nor supervisor, nor has he performed the duties of principal or supervisor for over three years".

School Committee members noted the transfer of assignments in the official records, but took no formal action in the belief that the transfer of personnel is within the jurisdiction of the administrators.
